

Chemical imaging TOF-SIMS

A Time-of-Flight Secondary ion mass spectrometer with chemical imaging features has been developed. Consists of two high energy fine focus, primary ion guns, a secondary ion extraction column and reflectron based time-of-flight detection system. Several important studies have been carried out including enrichment percentage of  $^{235}\text{U}$  coatings for High temperature fission chambers.

